STEP #1 Apply Online Before Travel
10–15 days before flying to the USA, complete the SSN application online:
The United States Social Security Administration | SSA
Save your SSA control number – you need it at your in-person appointment.
At the end of submitting it, it asks to schedule your in-person appointment, select YES.
– Try to choose a date and time 4–5 days after your arrival.
– If no close time is available, book what's open (even if 3+ weeks later).
– You can check back online later for an earlier time slot.
You must complete your Google Housing Form and submit it for review and approval a month or two before your flight to the USA.
– If you do not have the Google Form, ask your CHI Program Coordinator for the link to complete it.

STEP #2 Validate Your Program with CHI
After arriving, log in to your CHI Participant Account and submit validation.
CHI will review and approve it in 2–3 business days (closed on weekends & holidays).
You must receive the email that your validation is approved before going to SSA.
CHI can't approve validation unless your Google Housing Form is submitted and approved.
If validation is still not approved 5 days after arrival, contact your CHI Program Coordinator.
Important:
Do NOT go to the SSA office before you are successfully validated in SEVIS.
Social Security cannot process or mail your SSN unless your SEVIS record shows you are validated.
If you go too early, your SSN will not be processed.

STEP #3 Go to SSA Appointment (Once your SEVIS is successfully validated)
Bring these items:
Passport
DS-2019
J-1 Visa

SSA Control Number
Confirm your mailing address and check that your application details are correct.

STEP #4 Wait for Your SSN
You should get your card in 14 to 21 business days.
If it has not arrived, contact the Social Security Administration and ask for an update. Keep your CHI Program Coordinator updated as well.
If it hasn't arrived in 30 days, notify your CHI Program Coordinator, and she will advise you if you will need to reapply (start the process over again).

Remember:
Tell your employer what steps you've completed (online app, in-person, waiting).
Don't skip your SSA appointment—reschedule if needed.
Keep your original documents safe. Take a photo of each document and keep it available on your phone. Also, carry photocopies with you, just in case.

3. Submit your application online. Take a photo with your phone of the SSA Control Code/Number.

1. Verify Cash Drawer:
    - At the start of the shift, the employee must verify the beginning balance of the cash drawer with a manager present. This starting balance is essential for making change during transactions.
    - The drawer is the sole responsibility of the employee during the shift, and only managers can access it.

2. Counting Back Policy:
    - Employees should always verbally count back change to customers to minimize mistakes. This involves starting from the amount owed and counting up to the total cash given by the customer.

3. How to Make Change:
    - When making change, employees should place the cash received from the customer on the register while pulling change from the drawer.
    - Start by using coins to reach the nearest even dollar amount, then continue with bills to reach the total amount received.

4. How to Count Back:
    - After getting the correct change, count it back to the customer to confirm accuracy.
    - For instance, if the amount owed is $21.45 and the customer gives $30.00, place the change in the customer's hand while counting: "$21.45, $21.50 (nickel), $22.00 (quarters), $23.00, $24.00, $25.00 (dollar bills), and $30.00 (five-dollar bill)."

5. Balance Drawer:
    - At the end of the shift, the employee must balance the cash drawer. This involves counting the cash, adding check, credit, and debit totals, and recording all on a balance sheet.
    - The final amount should match the beginning balance plus the total sales for the shift.
